This exceptional country estate, situated on a private plot of 4,460 m² and boasting a total of 946 m² of built-up area, stands out for its colonial architecture, meticulous attention to detail, and aesthetic coherence throughout its buildings. The entire property was renovated in 1998 and has been maintained in excellent condition since, using high-quality materials and craftsmanship. The main house, on one level, has approximately 550 m² of living space and includes four bedrooms, three with en-suite bathrooms; a main living room; a separate kitchen; a glazed terrace; an additional sitting room; and a utility room/laundry area. The house is notable for its glass ceilings in the bathrooms and living room, a central dome reminiscent of a church, and a distinct colonial style, with an elegant combination of natural stone and wood. The estate features a spectacular detached building, designed as a reception hall for large gatherings, constru...
